Yesterday's Happenings in Politics.

Democratic Anti-Fusionists in Kansas.

The People's Party - Massing at Atlanta, Ga.

Arrangements Completed for Carrying the Republican Campaign into Colleges.

New York, July 20.—[Associated Press.] The Republican "campaign of education" is to be extended to the colleges. Headquarters for the American Republican College league have been opened at No. 232, Fifth avenue, in this city, and from there the work of circulating Republican and protection literature into the minds of students throughout the country will be actively prosecuted.

Branch leagues have already been established in numerous colleges. The New York University has already a league nearly 1,500 strong, while 800 names are enrolled at Harvard. Efforts will also be made to reach the alumni of the various colleges and induce them to swell the ranks.

Michigan Republicans.

Sutton, Mich., July 20.—Representatives of the Republicans of the Wolverine state are gathering here in large numbers for the purpose of placing a ticket in the field. In the various district conventions there has been a hot fight for the gubernatorial nomination between Hon. John E. Rich and J. S. Pingree, but the former has a sufficient number of delegates instructed to insure his nomination on the first ballot. Daniel McCoy, of Grand Rapids, appears to be in the lead for state treasurer. The various district delegations will hold their meetings this afternoon and the convention proper will open tomorrow.

Anti-Fusionists.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—Several hundred representative Democrats from all over the state have arrived here for the purpose of holding a convention at which a full Democratic ticket is to be placed in the field. The convention is to be held in response to a call issued by the Democracy of the fifth district and it says that the action of a part of the Democracy of the state in fusing with the People's party has deprived the rest of the Democrats of the privilege of a state Democratic ticket and has barred away the political birthright of the old party to the populist minority. There are thousands of Democrats throughout the state who do not propose to allow the dictum of potage-seekers to force them into the ranks of the populists.

The Georgia Populists.

Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—The state convention of the Peoples party opened here this afternoon, with a large attendance. There is a warm contest between ex-Senator Ellington and Colonel Beck for the gubernatorial nomination.

Heroes of the Mexican War.

Chicago, Ill., July 20.—The surviving veterans of the Mexican war who are in this state are assembled in annual reunion here today. There is a good attendance of white-headed feeble comrades who saw service in that great campaign, although many of them have passed to their last account since the last meeting. Illinois is now about the only state where there are a sufficient number of these veterans to hold such a gathering.

The Yellowstone Commission.

Washington, July 20.—The report of the Yellowstone Park investigation committee severely comments on the execution of Russell Harrison's influence on the government in favor of the corporation. It refers to the setting aside of 5,000 acres of stock. Col. Carr, of the Sixth cavalry, was appointed Brig.-General, vice General Stanley, retired.

A Catholic Educational Exhibit.

Chicago, July 20.—A large committee of Catholics, representing the diocese of Fort Wayne is holding a meeting here today for the purpose of completing plans for a church educational exhibit at the world's fair. It was decided that President Welch, of the Notre Dame University, should have general superintendence of the enterprise.

The Work of Fire Bugs.

Boz, Idaho, July 20.—A destructive fire broke out at Pocatello last night and destroyed $50,000 worth of property. It originated in the opera house and under a strong wind spread rapidly, consuming everything in the block. The fire is supposed to have been of an incendiary origin, the opera house having been on fire once before on the same day.

Still a Stand-Off.

Pittsburg, July 20.—Fifty non-union men started for the Carnegie union mills this morning when they were at once surrounded by strikers and the situation looked serious for the time.

but the non-union men were finally persuaded not to enter the mills.

THE CHURCH'S STAND.

An Address to be Sent Out to English Voters.

New York, July 20.—[Associated Press.] A dispatch from London says that just as soon as parliament is dissolved the Bishop of Westminster will issue to the bishops of his diocese an address, with instructions that the substance thereof should be communicated to every voter in his congregation. In this address the archbishop said: "Without desiring to confound or weaken the issues of the coming election, remember that you are Christians. No matter who may be the candidate of your choice press upon him your desire to maintain Christianity as the basis and form of public elementary education. Vote to send no man to parliament without having first informed him of the views of the church on the issue of liberty and justice for Catholic schools."

In Congress.

Washington, July 20.—In the house the bill, granting the American register to the ship China, was defeated. The commerce committee authorized the investigation of the Reading combine. The senate adjourned after a debate on the anti-option bill.

Stone Nominated.

Jefferson City, July 20.—The Democratic state convention adjourned at 3:15 this morning after thirteen ballots without a choice, till 10 o'clock this morning.

W. J. Stone was nominated for governor on the nineteenth ballot.

On a $10,000 Bond.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Burgess McLuckie, of Homestead, under arrest for participating in the late mill riot, was held this morning and the prisoners released on $10,000 bail.

WORK IS RESUMED

At the Mines in the Cœur d'Alenes.

The Quickness With Which the Victory of the Miners Was Turned to Defeat.

Wallace, Ida., July 20.—[Associated Press.] Work has been resumed at all the mines in Cœur d'Alene. Wages have been fixed at $3.50 for skilled miners and $3.00 per day for shovelers, with right to board and lodge where they please.

The presence of the troops is a guarantee that the men can work for whom they please without becoming members of any organization. The action of the Homestead strikers, whose deeds were commented upon in violent anarchistic language by such men as Breen, Dallas, Poynton and O'Brien, stirred up the evil passions of the ignorant miners, whom they ruled with a rod of iron.

On the 13th the strike assumed its most dangerous phase and the mine owners were virtually held prisoners and 300 non-union workmen were in the hands of men capable of shooting them to death at the command of their leaders.

It is regarded here that General Carlin's delay at Calaba until the non-union men could be sent out saved many lives as well as valuable property. It is believed that every threat made by the strikers would have been carried out had the troops advanced.

The miners considered their fight won when the non-union men left, never dreaming they would return within two days. Before they could recover from their surprise the deputy marshals were pointing them out to soldiers, who arrested them.

Since the 13th there has been no danger whatever and sensational reports sent out from here were, in most cases, gross exaggerations.

A EUROPEAN RÖT.

Serious Trouble Between the Mob and the Medical Fraternity.

Berlin, July 20.—[Associated Press.] The Zart Listok publishes the details of the Starofort riots and states that the populace is infuriated by hearing the reports that cholera had been invented by doctors, and waited for a pretext for a riot. A young man mistaken for a doctor was attacked; a friend tried to protect him and both were stoned to death. The bodies were horribly mangled.

The mob then spread over the city, wrecking hospitals, houses of doctors, apothecary shops, and releasing cholera patients. Nurses were cruelly beaten. There was a deadly attack on the hospital attendants and surgeons and the imperiled men begged for mercy on their knees, but the mob was pitiless and killed all they could find.

When the troops were summoned the mob stoned them. The troops fired a volley into their midst, killing and wounding many. The troops then distributed throughout the town.

This Can't be Charged to Protection.

New York, July 20.—As a result of the strike of public cartmen, drivers, brick handlayers and boatmen against material bosses, 5,000 men were forced into idleness. Unless a settlement is reached fully as many more will go out.

TO BE HEARD

By the Largest Audience Possible.

Is What the Stuffed Prophet Desires.

A Multitudinous Array of Kings County Democrats.

Assembled Last Night to Publicly Consecrate the Sheep for Slaughter.

New York, July 20.—[Associated Press.] Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson will be formally notified tonight in Madison Square Garden of their selection as the nominees of the Democratic party for the offices of president and vice president respectively, and the event will be made the occasion of a great demonstration on the part of the Democracy of Kings county. Prominent Democrats from many different parts of the Union will also participate in the event and over two hundred of them are registered at the principal hotels this morning. The Madison Square Garden was selected owing to Mr. Cleveland's desire that his response to the formal notification should be heard by as large an audience as possible.

The speech of notification will be made by Congressman W. L. Wilson of West Virginia. He was chairman of the National convention at Chicago and is also chairman of the notification committee. The members of the National Democratic committee are holding an informal conference at the Fifth Avenue hotel today, and will have a regular meeting tonight after the proceedings in the garden.

There is a good deal of speculation regarding the selection of a chairman. Ex-President Cleveland insists that ex-Secretary Whitney must take the position as it is demanded by the unanimous sentiment of the party, while on the other hand Mr. Whitney insists that under no conditions will he accept the chairmanship.

Should he persist in this decision the prospects are that Secretary of State Wm. S. Harrison of Pennsylvania, and who is a noted organizer, will be the choice of the committee.

Cleveland's Address.

New York, July 20.—In the course of the speech at the notification meeting Mr. Cleveland referred to the responsibility of the Democratic party in the coming campaign and said that if the responsibility is great the party is strong in its sympathy with the needs of the people and in its willingness to risk its life and hopes upon the people's intelligence and patriotism. He declared that never has a great party had a better incentive for effort than that now presented. He said: "Turning our eyes to the plain people of the land we see them burdened as consumers with a tariff system that unjustly and relentlessly demands from them in purchase of the necessities of life an amount scarcely met by the wages of hard and steady toil which exacts thus wrung from them build up and increase the fortunes of those for whose benefit this injustice is perpetuated."

"We see the farmer listening to the delusive story that fills his mind with visions of advantage while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand of high protection. Our workmen are now still told the tale of repeated in spite of its demonstrated falsity that the existing protection is a boon to them and that under its beneficent operations their wages must increase. While they listen crimes are enacted in the very highest abiding place of tariff that mock the hopes of toilers and attest the tender mercy the working men receive."

Mr. Cleveland continued, "Ours is not a destructive party; we are not recklessly heedless of any American interests nor will we abandon our regard for them but we insist that no plan of tariff legislation will be tolerated which has for its object and purpose the forced contribution from the earnings and income of the mass of our citizens to swell directly the accumulations of a favored few."

In regard to the force bill Mr. Cleveland said in part: "We have also assumed the duty of opposing to the death the avowed scheme of our adversaries which, under the guise of protecting suffrage, covers but does not conceal the design whereby to perpetuate the power of a party afraid to trust its continuance to the untrammelled and intelligent vote of the American people. The attempt to enforce such legislation would rekindle animosities and replace prosperous activity with discouragement and dread throughout a large section of the country, and would menace the rights reserved to the states and people, which underlie the safeguards of American liberty."

Continued Mr. Cleveland, "We commend unswerving allegiance to the party. Defeat in the pending campaign following the consummation of the legislation schemes our opponents contemplate and accompanied by such other incidents of their success as might more firmly fix their power would present a most discouraging outlook for the future Democratic supremacy, for the accomplishment of the objects we have at heart.

Mr. Cleveland concluded, "Let us tell the people plainly and honestly what we believe and how we propose to serve the interests of the entire country and then let us, after the manner of true Democrats, rely upon the justness of our fellow countrymen."

Chairman Wilson in his address said: "This beside being a formal notification meeting is also made an occasion for presenting a platform of Democratic principles, which in all utterances is merely a declaration of the one great principle that whatever governments and law can do for a people must be done for all people without precedence of section or grades of citizenship."

Turning to Mr. Cleveland, the speaker said, "In the midst of a career deserving of higher honors and from which you will receive the highest encomiums, you were struck down because as a Democrat you could make no terms with those who wished to plunder the people's treasury and perpetuate the passions of civil strife. Your countrymen will right your wrong. We can assure you there are no weary or despondent Democrats in the ranks today and with all the people's cause as our cause we do not need you to lead us to a glorious triumph."

FROM PRESCOTT.

A Social and Military Reception.

Items of Interest in and About Phoenix Flourishing Northern Neighbor.

Prescott, Ariz., July 20.—[Special.] On Friday of last week there was given at the residence of Judge E. W. Wells by his estimable wife and Mrs. J. C. Herndon a reception to Associate Judge Kibbey and wife and the officers and their ladies of the 11th U. S. Infantry stationed at Whipple barracks.

The beautiful lawn surrounding the judge's handsome residence was like a dream from the Arabian Nights; there were numberless Chinese lanterns in all the colors of the rainbow, while easy chairs were placed all around for the comfort of the visitors. A large spot near the music-room was reserved and prepared for dancing. It was glowing and momentous in order for the evening. Gracious and amiable Helen Wells was everywhere greeting all with smiling face and cheering words. During the evening songs were rendered, instrumental music for the dance and for the parlor followed in artistic order. All sorts of games were indulged in and a thoroughly happy time was had. At midnight an elegant luncheon was served; soon more dancing followed when the guests bid their hosts goodnight, regretting that such an enjoyable evening should be so soon spent. Among the guests were the following: Col. and Mrs. DeRussey, Dr. and Mrs. Pope, Capt. Matile and wife, Capt. Ormsby and wife, Lieut. Trass and wife, Lieut. Emery and wife, Lieut. Gierwitz and wife, Lieut. Dentler, Lieut. Waigel, Judge and Mrs. Kibbey, Ex-Governor and Mrs. F. A. Title, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dasher, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Burnister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. P. Behan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Swan, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Lecklider, Miss Meany, Messrs. Street and Frank Cox of Phoenix, J. J. Hawkins, F. A. Title, Jr. and Dr. Wolfe.

It is pleasing to note the friendly intercourse of the military and our people. It reminds us of the days of Gen. Crook when Whipple and Prescott were like one town.

Gov. N. O. Murphy, "Our Oaks" arrived on Saturday's train with his wife and son Paul. Everybody up here is his friend and it must be gratifying for him to see and feel the friendship felt for him where he is known best. There is no happier man in Arizona than Mr. B. F. Murphy, the father of our governor; his seventy years sit lightly on his shoulders today and he walks with the elasticity of youth. The Prescott band turned out on Saturday night to serenade Gov. Murphy; the street was crowded, Lieut. Emery and wife, Lieut. Gierwitz and wife, Lieut. Dentler, Lieut. Waigel, Judge and Mrs. Kibbey, Ex-Governor and Mrs. F. A. Title, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dasher, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Burnister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. P. Behan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Swan, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Lecklider, Miss Meany, Messrs. Street and Frank Cox of Phoenix, J. J. Hawkins, F. A. Title, Jr. and Dr. Wolfe.

Later a question as to an absence of legality in the matter of their sale arose and further legislation apparently became necessary. It has never been shown that this legislation was really necessary but it is a matter of fact that Farson, Leach & Co. departed from the terms of the contract and have not only lost all claim to the possession of the bonds in their new form, but have also forfeited the $75,000 deposited.

There is nothing in the new order of things which will again prevent them from becoming bidders, but the consensus of opinion among the legal gentlemen seen yesterday is that they occupy a point of disadvantage. They can only recover the $75,000 forfeit by again becoming the highest and best bidders.

THE NEW BONDS

Will Be Ready for Signature in Ten Days.

Why Gov. Murphy Returned to Phoenix.

The Preposterous Claim of Farson, Leach & Co.

Who Desire to Reap a Handsome Profit From the Violation of a Contract.

Governor Murphy returned yesterday morning after a week's absence. He expected to be gone until about September 1, but after leaving Prescott he received information that his presence was much more desirable in the city, as whatever was to be done in the matter of the bonds could be better attended to from here than elsewhere. Colonel Christy had just arrived from the east and showed that there would be no lack of bids, as the 5 per cent bonds had already created a furor in the money market.

The bonds will be completed and ready for signature in about ten days, and in the meantime bids will be received here and acted upon.

Farson, Leach & Co. are now more than ever desirous that their bid of 97 stand and it is said they refuse to take down their $75,000 forfeit. It is further believed that they should not be permitted to do this even if they were so disposed. It is reported that they will make a strong effort to prevent a further placing of the bonds.

Whatever has been said by the friends of Farson, Leach & Co. is regarded as a bluff, and in the end it is believed they will be compelled to accept the inevitable either by going out of the game or again becoming the highest bidder.

The bonds are now of greater value than ever before by reason of the recent action of congress, which has practically placed them on an equality with government securities; they bear 5 per cent, payable semi-annually and there is no doubt of their easy sale at par or even at a premium.

The bonds now to be placed on the market are quite different in law though not in reality or value, from those which Farson, Leach & Co. bought, and which they themselves on the later advice of their attorneys declared were invalid, and for that reason refused to fulfill a contract entered into between them and the territorial government.

The more recent action of congress was not taken into consideration when the original contract was made between Farson, Leach & Co. and the territory. At that time the contract was believed to be good. At the time it was made it was understood to be valid by both the contracting parties and the $75,000 deposited by Farson, Leach & Co. was regarded as a forfeit. Even their attorneys found no fault with the terms of the purchase.

Later a question as to an absence of legality in the matter of their sale arose and further legislation apparently became necessary. It has never been shown that this legislation was really necessary but it is a matter of fact that Farson, Leach & Co. departed from the terms of the contract and have not only lost all claim to the possession of the bonds in their new form, but have also forfeited the $75,000 deposited.

There is nothing in the new order of things which will again prevent them from becoming bidders, but the consensus of opinion among the legal gentlemen seen yesterday is that they occupy a point of disadvantage. They can only recover the $75,000 forfeit by again becoming the highest and best bidders.

MISSING TWO YEARS.

His Grief Stricken Wife Sends Out a Description of Him.

Two years ago last August D. C. Cartwright left Helix, to go to San Diego. He has never since been seen by his relatives and friends. His wife, Mary L. Cartwright, of Pomona, Cal., has never abandoned her search for him and believes that he is yet among the living. Yesterday a communication was received at THE REPUBLICAN office from her. She describes the missing man as about 57 years of age, five feet eleven inches in height, light complexion, blue eyes, hair quite gray. He was a cripple in his left arm and hand. Any information concerning such a person as is above described will be thankfully received by his grief stricken wife.

SALT RIVER HONEY.

A Statement of the Sale of the Last Car Shipped.

Business Manager Irvine of the Beekeepers' association yesterday rendered accounts current to the members of the association in the matter of the last car of honey. It was sold at Chicago. The gross weight of the shipment was 30,303 pounds and it was sold for $1,855.00. The freight was $387, cartage $11.55 and commission at 1 1/2 per cent, $42.75. The honey brought a uniform price of 5 1/2 cents, except a single lot of extra fine, which was sold for 7 cents. The net proceeds of the sale was $1,363.76.

Who Sells to Them.

Considerable trouble is being experienced with the Indians at Maricopa. They are bringing in grain and in some way obtain whiskey. They are not particularly quarrelsome but they hang around the station day and night and create apprehension in the minds of the residents in that vicinity. An attempt is being made to ascertain how and they get the stimulant.

An Immigration Plan.

Major Evans left night before last for Chicago and other eastern points. The object of his visit is to further an immigration scheme. The major is so strictly conservative that it is well assured that whoever comes to the valley through his influence will come to stay and will prove to be a desirable acquisition.

YESTERDAY WITH THE RECORDER.

Resume of the Business Transacted by That County Official.

The following instruments were filed for record yesterday: Warranty deed from Vema and John O. Ming to Margaret A. Goodman, to lot 15, block P, University addition, $175. Warranty deed from same grantors to Homer Goodin, lot 13, block —, University addition, $150.

A deed from Maricopa county to M. Warner for the se. 1/4, sec. 25, tp. 1 n., r. 3 e., $22.50.

Warranty deed from Maricopa county to Walter Penell to lots 11, 12, 13 and 14, College Place, Maricopa county, $350.

It Would Fill a Long Felt Want.

It is rumored that among other things a boiler plate factory will be erected in connection with a morning sheet, to save freight rates on car load lots.—Phoenix Herald.

This information is not well authenticated. There is reason to believe, though, that a newspaper kindergarten should be established in connection with the evening "sheet." That is, a kindergarten or lunatic asylum or something of that sort.

The Twinkler's Poetry.

From an atmosphere unmythical music sweeter than ripe turkey fills the air of Arizona east to Albuquerque.

From the Needles to Nogales And through all the pleasant valleys down to Yuma where Old Pluto lores to sweat and eat his jerky.—Phoenix Herald.

An "unmythical" atmosphere and the music of the "ripe turkey" which has transgressed beyond the New Mexican line or removed it some 300 miles eastward into the vicinity of Albuquerque is—well, for heaven's sake, get boiler plate.

CARPENTER'S CASE

Developed Into a Matter of Legal Interest.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Taken Under Advisement by Probate Judge Baxter.

The habeas corpus case of Andy Carpenter, the negro, was brought before Judge Baxter yesterday afternoon and was taken under advisement until 9 o'clock this morning.

Carpenter is the man who was fined by Justice Hason six months in the county jail and $300 for making an assault upon an old man named Charles Chican, with whose wife the prisoner was supposed to be duly intimate.

Two or three nice points are involved in the grounds on which the habeas corpus proceedings are brought.

It is set up first that the sentence was excessive, but that is of course a matter of opinion. It is further set up that while the justice might have imposed upon Carpenter either a six months sentence or a $300 fine, he had not power to weigh him down with both. The prisoner's counsel argues that what is charged to be an overreaching of the justice's authority should result in the discharge of his client. However only two of these features of the case will likely be passed upon by the court. Of these one is the right of the justice to afflict both penalties, and to determine whether either might be deemed excessive.

It is quite unlikely that however the case may be decided that Carpenter will regain his freedom. While in this case he was only convicted of a misdemeanor it is not believed the court would set a precedent which might delude the ends of justice in the case of a felony.

WHO WROTE IT?

Did Henderson Send Obscene Letters to His Wife?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 20.—Fifty citizens of Lake county are here waiting to be used as witnesses in the trial of Edgar T. Henderson in the United States court. Henderson is charged with sending an obscene letter through the mails. The case is in some respects a peculiar one. Several years ago Henderson became acquainted with a female school teacher. He paid much attention to her, but finally married another woman.

Soon after his marriage his wife began to receive obscene and insulting letters. They kept coming till Henderson laid the matter before the government officials. A postoffice inspector was sent to investigate the matter, and a few days after he arrived the school teacher whom Henderson hadn't married exhibited an obscene letter with Henderson's name signed to it. She claimed that she had seen Henderson drop it into the postoffice. The inspector, however, had brought to the locality to keep an eye on the woman, then arrested Henderson. The case has created much attention in the northern part of the state. Henderson's attorneys will attempt to prove on the trial that the obscene letter was not written by Henderson at all.

A PECULIAR EMBEZZLING CASE

Made Possible by a Postoffice Clerk's Blunder.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 20.—A young man named Leonard, whose home is at Marshfield, is in jail here on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The story of the case is extraordinary. The other day ex-congressman Burr W. Jones, of Madison, got a certificate of deposit to his own credit at the First National bank of that city for $1,240.60, indorsed it in Levi Leonard's name, of Eau Claire, Wis., and mailed it to that gentleman.

The stupid postoffice clerk sent it instead to Eau Claire.

It happened by bare chance that Louis Leonard, the man in jail, was in Eau Claire and went to the general delivery window of the postoffice and asked if there was any mail for him. The clerk produced the Jones letter and gave it to the man, who raised $300 on the certificate of deposit at the Commercial bank in this city and fled. He was caught at Chippewa Falls. The certificate of deposit and the letter is in the hands of the district attorney. Leonard pleaded not guilty to the charge against him when arraigned today. The postmaster here says he will discharge the clerk who gave the letter to Leonard.

A Naval Officer Suicides.

New York, July 20.—S. H. May, Lieutenant of the United States navy, fatally shot himself this afternoon at his rooms at United
